COPYRIGHT TERMS AND CONDITIONS

All text is the original work of the author and is not published in the same form elsewhere.

In case the paper is written under collaboration with more authors or institutions, it is the responsibility of the authors to obtain the required approval from all the parties involved.

Authors must be the creators of the images for their article or must have usage and publishing permissions from the owners of the images. By submitting a contribution to The Picture Restorer it is implicit that authors have previously obtained the appropriate permissions concerning any works of art or persons depicted in the images.

The creator of the image retains full copyright for images published within The Picture Restorer and on our website.

Authors will retain full copyright of their papers after publication.

By submitting a contribution, you give The Picture Restorer your permission to publish your material (both text and images) in electronic format (pdf file).

Authors will not be asked to sign a written paper for their agreement to submission and publication; instead, we claim that when a contribution is submitted to The Picture Restorer, it is implicit that author(s) have understood and agree to the copyright terms.
